

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air a documentary that is anti-Kerry days before the election is a good example of the problems with media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.